Viewing this redistrict map – my concern, my opinion: this is the worst cast of gerrymandering I have seen in decades. This redistricting in no way is for the people – it is for the Democrats and Democrats only. It will serve you all right if in the next elections the Republicans win big.

Will I vote for Republican just because the person is a Republican – no; I have always voted for the person I deem most qualified/worthy to hold the position. However given the proposed map, a Republican will probably come out ahead of any Democrat just because of the way you have redrawn the legislative and congressional map.
