Subject: Redistrict tweak to 91st House District to create open seat

The incumbent in the 91st house district lives 1/10th of a mile from the proposed 88th house district. See attached file showing the proximity. Why not amend the proposed redistricting map to include this incumbent in the 88th? This could potentially open the 91st back up for a potential D win in 2012. Thanks.
